

RAILROAD STRIKE FEVER ON WANE

Morrison Says His Evidence Shows "Reds" Entered Strike Only After It Had Good Start—Labor Board Meeting Today.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, April 17.—The unauthorized railroad strikes which have the nation in their grip for more than a week are in a fair way to settle today, according to the reports reaching the department of justice.

Reports received at the department indicate that throughout the east the majority of the strikers are preparing to return to their work today.

The efforts of the department to check the work of agitators will not cease, it was stated, but steps will be taken to prevent any further outbreaks caused by those who desire an industrial foment.

According to a report on the entire strike situation received by Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, the agitators came into the strike only after it was well started. Morrison declared that he had evidence to show that "the reds" are not the moving factor in the strike situation.

The railroad labor board meets again today to take up its work of adjusting railroad wages, and it is expected that the board will be able to take steps shortly which will allay the unrest among railroad workers.

During the social hour which followed, Ernest Osgood entertained the men with several banjo solos, and then the men joined in singing some of the popular favorites of today and other days. Still later refreshments were served by George Bartlett.

Special note was taken of the absence of Louis Vaughn, who is now at the hospital and of a resolution of sympathy and expressive of the hope for his speedy recovery was prepared and sent to Mr. Vaughn.

CHEST SOLICITING SUNDAY, MAY 16

Executive Committee of Community Fund Decides To Invite Organizations Desiring To Participate To Present Claims April 22.

A meeting of the executive committee of the Kingston Community Fund was held at the court house Friday evening.

The officers elected are as follows: President, Hon. G. D. B. Hasbrouck; vice-presidents, Hon. Joseph M. Fowler and Samuel M. Watts; secretary, Charles R. O'Connor; treasurer, John E. Mahar.

The members of the executive committee are Mayor Canfield, Chairman John E. Mahar, William C. DeWitt, Frank B. Matthews, Ralph Cohen, Samuel M. Watts and Rudolph C. Dittus.

After a thorough discussion of the matters it was decided to have the soliciting campaign on the afternoon of Sunday, May 16th. This was done in Springfield and other cities and was very successful and met with general approval. By having the campaign on a Sunday afternoon, it will lessen the expense, make it easier and more convenient for the workers and prevent the usual interruptions to businesses which have attended the week-day drives.

Several organizations have already indicated a desire to be included in the fund. It was decided to invite any local organization which desires to make application for participation in the fund to submit their respective claims to the executive committee at the next meeting to be held at the city hall on Friday evening, April 23rd, and to have a representative present to present the budget.

All present expressed a firm belief that the campaign will be a success, and that the people of the city will understand it better after more publicity is given to it and that it will meet with general favor. Experiences of other places were related where there was opposition at the beginning but which dissolved when its objects and operation became better known.

The other committees will be notified of their appointment for the part of next week and will busy themselves at once.

TWO BANDS SEEK PARK CONTRACT

Citizens Band and Municipal Band Submit Same Figures—Broadway Finished By July 1—City To Plant 3,000 Trees—Other Matters Before B. P. W.

Along the same line taken by everything else music this year will cost the city about $500 more than last season, it was brought out at the regular monthly meeting of the board of public works held Friday afternoon when the newly organized Citizens Band and the Municipal Band submitted the same figure, $3,009.50, to furnish the park music this summer. Last season the cost was $2,450, and the music was furnished by the Municipal Band.

The figure submitted Friday is for a band of twelve men. Under the union scale each man must be paid $21 per week, while the leader receives double pay. Harry Maisenholder, leader of the Citizens Band, and Henry Terpening, manager, were present at the meeting, while the Municipal Band was represented by Professor George Muller.

Professor Muller said that he was not present in his own behalf as he would be unable to take the contract on account of his contract with Keeney's theatre but had appeared in the interest of the band which had been organized for the city, and had furnished the park music since the board of public works had taken over Kingston Point.

Under the union scale of wages neither band could offer a lower figure for a band of twelve men, and the entire matter was referred to the park committee to award the contract to one of the bands.

The question that is interesting musicians in Kingston is which band will land the contract.

Edward A. Brun of No. 101 Green street, was awarded the shooting gallery concession at Kingston Point Park for $200, and was given an option on the adjoining building. He is contemplating opening a crazy kitchen in the building.

The park committee reported it had awarded the dance hall contract at Kingston Point Park to Curt Shurtler, and the action was approved by the board. Mr. Shurtler's bid was $515, and he expected to make all repairs to the hall which was estimated would cost $100, making his bid $615.

The park committee also reported it had purchased 2,000 Norway spruce trees and 1,000 Scotch pine trees from the state at a cost of 50 cents a thousand trees, the total cost being $1,500. These trees are to be planted in Forsyth Park and McVey's Field.

The board decided to insure the three city boilers and accepted a proposition made by James G. Van Keuren of this city, who represents a large insurance concern, to insure the city's boilers.

Called attention to the condition of South Pine street, and the communication was referred to the street committee.

The Kingston Gas & Electric Company requested it be furnished with a list of streets the board intended to improve this summer in the order in which the work would be taken up. Superintendent W. Scott Van Keuren in reply to questions stated that the work on Broadway was proceeding rapidly. It was stated that the entire work of Willing Broadway would be completed about July 1.

After Broadway is finished the board will likely take up the improvement of Foxhall avenue.

After some discussion the board directed the superintendent to notify the gas company that it was impossible to comply with the request at this time, but that the Broadway job would not be completed before the time stated.

The gas and electric company expected to make extensive repairs this summer.

Beckwith & Company of No. 22 John street were given permission to erect a sign over the sidewalk under the usual restrictions.

The Kingston Gas & Electric Company was given permission to open the street to make repairs at 255 Wall street.

The L. F. Bannon Company was given permission to open Post and Abel streets to renew water service for Ralph Mann.

E. Otis Van Aken was given permission to place building material on Fair street at the Schermerhorn building.

The Palo Cigar Company was given permission to erect a sign over sidewalk under the usual restrictions.

The request of the gas company to open the street at 255 Washington avenue to repair gas service was granted.

A number of resolutions introduced at the last common council session were read and referred to the various committees of the board for action.

Several routine matters were disposed of and an adjournment taken.

EASTERN RAIL STRIKE ENDED

Ultimatum of Road Executives Brings Men Back in Droves to Avoid Loss of Seniority and Other Rights—Congestion and Inconvenience to Be Felt For Few Days Yet.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, April 17.—The "outlaw" railroad strike virtually came to an end today on eastern railroads with the return to work of the strikers in overwhelming numbers.

Freight began to move early this morning in volume for the first time in ten days.

Embargoes were lifted, restrictions removed and before nightfall, railroad managers said, practically normal conditions would be restored on nearly all principal carriers.

Warning that the public must expect to suffer inconveniences for the next few days was given by the railroads, however. The fuel shortage brought about by the tieup of coal movements in the east for the last week cannot be overcome at once, it was stated.

All the strikers who returned to work today did so under ultimatum of the railroad managers, which expires tomorrow at noon and the orders of their strike leaders on the Pennsylvania, B and O, Long Island, Erie, Lackawanna and other roads entering Jersey City and New York. By returning today they escaped disciplinary measures and loss of seniority and other rights.

STAMFORD'S CIVIC SPIRIT TO FRONT

Fifty-Nine Sign Call For Organization of Chamber of Commerce Which Means Busy Days For President Coe—Secretary Hudson Gives Benefit of His Experience.

Stamford residents to the number of 150 attended a banquet in the Stamford Opera House Thursday evening to consider the forming of a Chamber of Commerce in that village. After enjoying the dinner provided and served by the Women's Village Improvement Association there was an address by Secretary Hudson of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce on the advantages of organization and methods to be pursued.

Judge Grant of Stamford expressed his pleasure of being back home after spending two years in Kingston, a place well enough for ordinary people to live in but not in the class with Stamford, and after reviewing the boom days of 1891 expressed the belief that another boom had begun with the enlargement and improvement of the Churchill properties under the new ownership. Judge Grant spoke glowingly of the interest shown by Mr. Young in public improvements, making special reference to the $30,000 spent in improving and enlarging the golf course, without any solicitation. Such interest and generosity ought to be appreciated and supplemented by general co-operation. Some years ago the village was bonded to pay for street improvement and nobody had been impoverished thereby. Others streets needed improvement and it should come at once, this year.

L. F. Coe, president of the village, who presided at the banquet, said the village should have a playground, a community building equipped with a gymnasium, tennis courts and baseball field and pledged himself to work his head off to obtain these improvements if the people would back him up.

Judging from the applause with which this was received and the fact that 59 of those present signed a preliminary call for the organizing of a Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Coe will work his head off.

BROADWAY PAVEMENT

Will Be Best Along River, Says Newburgh News.

The Newburgh News editorially comments as follows on the laying of Willite on Broadway, this city:

Kingston paved its Broadway a dozen years ago and the upturn section of a few years ahead of Newburgh's improvement of its Broadway. A brick pavement was laid and has been in bad condition for the last few years, a succession of rains having developed which rival those which existed in the former asphalt block pavement in North Water street, Newburgh. Starting this week the street department is relaying the brick, which next will be filled with sand and stone, and packed down by the steam roller. One stop of this will be placed Willite, which presumably is similar to cut bitulithic. This will give Kingston two miles of as fine a pavement as can be found along the Hudson.

"Half News" Lamented.

S. Shipping Board. Mrs. F. Delano Hinch characterized the vessel with champagne and bestowed upon it the name "Half News" at 1:15 o'clock.

FRANCO-BELGIAN UNITED ACTION

Even if British and American Occupational Forces Are Withdrawn They Will Keep Big Army on Rhine.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Paris, April 17.—France and Belgium are prepared to maintain a big army on the Rhine even if both the British and American armies of occupation are withdrawn, it was announced by General Castelnau, president of the chamber of deputies army commission.

"If the United States congress fails to vote an appropriation to maintain an army on the Rhine, France will regret it very much since the burden of placing an additional 15,000 men in the Coblenz area would fall upon our country," said General Castelnau.

"But Germany knows very well that even if England should also retire we would maintain an army of 100,000. France and Belgium are capable of amassing sufficient military forces on the Rhine to compel Germany to respect and obey the terms of the Versailles treaty."

HOME AFTER AN EVENTFUL TRIP

Distinguished Visitors at Huguenot Celebration in South, Including Judge Clearwater and Ralph LeFevre Made Long Trip Over Strike-Bound Roads—General Sharpe, Popular With Southerners, Extends Unusual Courtesies.

Judge Clearwater has returned from Charleston, South Carolina, where he went as the representative of the Huguenot Society of America to deliver an address at the celebration by the Huguenot Society of South Carolina of the four hundredth anniversary of the birth of the great Huguenot leader, Admiral Gaspard de Coligny, the judge's subject being "The Huguenot in America and his Successors."

The celebration was a most brilliant success, and was attended by Huguenots from all over the world. Among the other speakers was the Count de W. Ursicli of Paris, who represented the French Republic; the Baron William de Beaufort, the cousin of the Queen of Holland, who represented the Kingdom of the Netherlands; Queen Wilhelmina of Holland being a lineal descendant of Admiral Coligny; the Rev. Howard Duffield, D. D., LL. D. of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church, New York city, and Ralph LeFevre of New Paltz, N. Y., Commander of the War Department Division of the Southeast, who is of Huguenot descent, took the visitors on the lighthouse tender Cypress to Fort Sumter, they being the first who have been permitted to land at the old historic fort in six years, and caused to be discharged for them the largest gun in any fortification on the Atlantic seaboard. The judge says that all classes of citizens of Charleston—judges, lawyers, bankers, merchants—said to him that General Sharpe was held in the highest esteem and affection by the people of Charleston, that without any apparent effort or display he created the conviction of being a most efficient and accomplished officer.

When asked about the railroad situation at the south, the judge said it was desperate. There were hundreds of people marooned in Charleston who were unable to get north. He only succeeded in doing so because of special arrangements being made for the Atlantic Coast Line to run north in charge of a special crew a train designed to carry as far as Washington the visitors to the celebration. On reaching Washington it was concluded to send those of them on to New York who wished to go there. In its trip from Charleston to New York the train stopped only at Richmond, Washington and Baltimore. When it reached the Hackensack meadows a volunteer crew had to be obtained to pilot it through the tunnel to the Pennsylvania Station, as the regular switchmen would not take it in. The judge speaks in the highest terms of the hospitality and courtesy of the Charlestonians.

ERIE-ONTARIO CANAL UNWISE

Army Engineers Report That Project Should Wait Until Commerce Justifies Its Construction Which They Deem Impracticable.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, April 17.—Construction of a Lake Erie-Lake Ontario waterway or ship canal, is not advisable at this time, either from a military or commercial viewpoint, according to a report submitted today to the house rivers and harbors committee by the army engineer board in charge of rivers and harbors improvements.

In the improbable event of war with Great Britain, says the report of the engineers, the Welland Canal could be easily destroyed by shell or aircraft as it is on Canadian soil, while the United States could use the Erie Barge Canal for the movement of its vessels of light draft.

The present commerce between Lakes Erie and Ontario does not exceed four million freight tons per annum of which not over 10 per cent is United States commerce, coastwise or foreign, continues the report.

"It is not deemed advisable at the present time for the United States to undertake the construction of waterways or ship channels along the most practicable route of Lake Erie and Lake Ontario of sufficient depth to admit the largest vessels now in use on the lakes," is the conclusion of the engineers.

"No such improvement should be considered until tangible plans for the deepening of the St. Lawrence channel to the sea commensurate with the enlarged Welland Canal indicates a prospective commerce that might justify the construction of a United States ship channel from Lake Erie to Lake Ontario."

Colonel J. G. Warren, district engineer, who made the report which is concurred in by Major-General Lansing H. Beach, chief of engineers, says that the present needs of commerce between Lake Erie and Lake Ontario are reasonably well provided for and he finds no evidence of a prospective commerce greater than the present.

WIDE SCOPE OF TROLLEY PETITION

At Mass Meeting It Is Claimed If This One Is Granted Company May Remove Other Tracks Without Applying To Commission—Big Meeting Monday.

There was a very enthusiastic meeting held last evening at the office of Judge Jenkins for the purpose of discussing the proposed removal of the trolley tracks from Washington avenue. There were a number of people present from both the Fifth and Twelfth wards and various plans were talked over. It was pointed out that the petition of the trolley company filed with the Public Service Commission, asking for permission to remove the tracks, covers a wide field and if the petition should be granted, the company would be able to remove other tracks in the city without further application to the commission.

Besides discussing the application for the removal of the tracks on Washington avenue which the trolley company has filed, the matter of the protest meeting Monday evening at the court house was discussed. It was urged that an effort be made to have a large attendance of citizens from all over town and that they be given to understand that it was up to them to prevent the taking away of the trolley service on Washington avenue.

At the meeting Monday evening there will be several able speakers and a petition will be circulated for the signatures of those who failed to sign the petition at former meetings.

A number of plans were discussed which will be presented before the meeting Monday evening for approval.

AN ESSAY ON "EVERYWOMAN"

The following is a high school essay on "Everywoman," the play to be given by the high school students on Friday evening, April 23rd. Tickets for the same are being sold by the high school students.

While "Everywoman" is a modern play in respect to characterization and action it is on the plan of early morality plays, one of the best examples of which is "Everywoman."

Although the characters in "Everywoman" represent various abstract virtues, vices and conditions, they are concrete types of men and women at the present.

This fine production will afford players much pleasure because of the music, the songs, the choruses, the dances as well as the dramatic action.

"Everywoman" is a morality play and not a sermon in disguise. "Since the days of chivalry, when knights clashed steel for their lady loves and went on crusades to prove their prowess, while they remained secluded in cloisters or in moated castles, womankind, of which the title role of this play is intended to be a type, has grown more self-assertive and more bold."

To everywoman who at the present time is listening to flattery, is seeking love and laying siege to men's hearts, this play will appeal.

To everywoman there may come a reminder of the true place of woman. It may be well for him to remember these lines of the beautiful play.

"Be merciful, be just, be fair
To Everywoman, everywhere.
Her faults are many,
Nobody's the blame."
The curtain divides, "Nobody" is standing in the center of the room. He introduces himself and asks that you have patience with the play.

Youth, beauty and modesty, three pretty girls, dressed in simple robes of white trip in to everywoman's home. They dance a graceful measure as they sing, "Everywoman's" career will be carried out in the play.

Miss Ida Brink is visiting her uncle, Erastus Osterhout, at Flatbush.

Mrs. James Gaddis has returned home after visiting relatives in Saugerties.

Mr. Skeetee will hold the usual evening service at the hall, Sunday, 7:15 o'clock. William Hooker will sing.

The egg social held last week was a decided success, both socially and financially. The members of the committee in charge, Mrs. William Hooker, Mrs. David Kieffer and Miss Emma Brak, were more than pleased and wish to thank everyone who contributed in any way towards making it a success. Great amusement was manifested when the gentlemen found their partners, most of older ones taking the kiddies to supper which pleased them very much and made them feel quite grown up. We hope to have another soon that will be on a different plan but will promise just as good a time.

ARMENIANS AIDED ALLIES

And Then Were Left at Mercy of Turks Who Try to Kill Them. All So Christian Nations Will Have No Cause for Worry—Show of Force Only Way to Reason With Turk. Says Birch—Kingston Armenian Killed.

Kingston, N. Y., April 16, 1920. Editor of The Freeman:

In connection with the Near East drive, it is to be hoped that the final result will be to free the Armenians from the fanatic and murderous Turk, not alone the Armenians but the other Christian peoples in the Near East. The few Armenians in Kingston have done their bit for everything that has come along, and in the whole United States about 20,000 of them served in the American army during the war, some of them from Kingston.

What the Armenians feel very keenly is that the Christian nations all over the world have recently celebrated Easter, which commemorates the Christian faith, and swears to protect it. Have they done so?

The Armenians have lost more lives in this war or as the result of it than the United States lost in this war, the Spanish war, and the Civil war combined. They are being systematically murdered at the present time, why? First, because they are Christians; second, because they did all they could to help the allies. There is no doubt whatever that if the Armenians had pulled in with the Turks the war would have lasted much longer, and might have been going yet. What did the Armenians expect for this sacrifice? They were promised armed assistance to regain their country, and protection until they could recuperate. Have the Christian nations kept the faith? How is it, that the powers have freed Palestine and furnished protection to that country, and then after pouring millions of men into France, Italy, the Balkans, and the Near East, how is it that a mere handful of men could not be spared to protect the people that had sacrificed so much for them.

Had this been done right after the armistice, there would have been no occasion for the present drive. These hundreds of thousands of orphan children, have got to be supported for several years, under Christian protection. Otherwise they will ultimately be absorbed by the Turks, and to the shame of the Christian Nations, the Turks will have the satisfaction of having worked a nice trick for their benefit, and at the expense of millions of American money.

The pass word in Turkey today, is kill all the Armenians, and then there will be nothing for the Christian nations to worry about.

In a recent issue of the press was given along with General Harbord's report a list of 13 excellent reasons why the U. S. should take the majority for Armenia, and also a list of 12 selfish ones why we should not.

Armenians have sent hundreds of dollars to Armenia, but in most cases they have no satisfaction of knowing whether the money got to its destination or not, as the Turks control the mails, and there has been no letter news since the Marash tragedy, from interior points.

Just before the war, an Armenian from Kingston went back to visit his parents. The unfortunate fellow was amongst those that were deported, and killed in cold blood, and he was an American citizen, having taken his final papers out some time before in New York.

The missionaries are afraid of the Turks and have to curry favor with them, for no doubt judicious reasons. When the deportations first began, a number of girls ran to one of the American Colleges and begged to be taken in, but were refused because they said the Turks would make trouble. One of these same girls hid herself until the first rush and excitement was over, and then went back to the college and was taken in and allowed to work there until the close of the war and then managed, with the assistance of friends in this country, to come here and has quite recently arrived here in Kingston. The girl states that the Turks in some instances chopped off the fingers of persons to steal their rings and all of them were robbed before they were rushed out. Some years ago when the Turks were again up to their vile deeds, as at present, the Armenians in the vicinity of Adana were all armed and in that locality the Turks were defeated. However, the Turks were in control and the missionaries prevailed on the Armenians to give up their arms and guaranteed that they would not be molested. They had no sooner done this than the Turks, having them at their mercy, killed thousands in cold blood.

What is the use of sending a war ship to the coast towns when all this vile work is being done in the interior? If there was something going on in Kingston a warship outside of New York harbor would not help. The Turks have no respect for the U. S. unless backed up, in spite of any assertions to the contrary. Nothing but a show of force will convince them, and the appearance of an American division, supported with what armed Armenians that can be gathered together, would scare the Turks to submission without firing a shot. As to the Armenian country, it is very rich in oil, gold, copper, coal and other minerals, but the Turks have refused to allow them to be worked. The Germans got in there shortly before the armistice, in their frantic hunt for copper, and amongst the material they had to abandon in their flight from Allenby, was hundreds of auto trucks full of copper. There is no better land in the world for farming purposes. There are really no railroads, and there are any number of towns of the population of Kingston and larger with only wagon road connection. Leaving out the humanitarian standpoint, the U. S. could go in there, and in a few years put the country on a firm foundation and get back every dollar invested. With our tremendous mercantile marine, and Armenian ports, there would be an immense business. The country is ready for railways, telephones, and all modern methods, which the Turks will never allow the development of as long as they are in control.

Yours truly,
JUSTICE.

Why don't you live a cheerful life

SOMETHING ABOUT POTATOES.

One medium-sized potato, an ordinary serving of a common cooked cereal and a medium-sized slice of bread contain about the same amount of energy-yielding food, principally in the form of starches. We need starch to give us energy to live and work.

As a source of iron, potatoes are equal to whole cereals and eggs when properly cooked. The potato contains but a small amount of one type of building material which is very important: that is nitrogen; but the amount seems to equal the average amount found in cereals, on the basis of the usual servings.

Although potatoes and cereals have a good supply of lime and phosphorus, they should not be depended upon as a source of these minerals. As lime and phosphorus are needed for building bones and teeth as well as regulating the body processes, they should be supplied from milk, eggs, legumes.

One great advantage that potatoes have over cereals is that they help to keep the fluids of the body neutral or slightly alkaline, because of the potassium they contain. Those foods which have an alkaline reaction in the tissues seem to furnish better health to the average individual.

The waste in paring a potato after cooking, as compared to that of the method of peeling before cooking, is just half, as the skin holds back the mineral salts; the protein and starch and none of this food substance comes off with the skin after cooking.

The temperature of water in which potatoes are put on to cook also influences loss of nutriment. Experiments have proved that the loss of mineral matter is little; the loss of protein is over twice as great when potatoes are put on to cook in cold water as in boiling water.

From all points of view the best methods of preparing potatoes are by baking and steaming.

Hellie Maxwell

Beware of Lost Minutes.

"In the dynamics of broken affairs," said a learned man, "two qualities are essential to greatness—power and promptitude. The former is often the fruit of the latter. A man or woman who is impressed with the value of time will make every minute count to such purpose that his or her life will inevitably bear the stamp of power."

—Osgood Sweet Madden in Chicago Daily News.

Stepadders.

To keep the stepadders from slipping on either a polished floor or on sidewalks, put pieces of adhesive plaster on the feet of the latter. This holds it steady and prevents the floor from scratches.

New York, April 17.—Joe Stecher is still the world's heavyweight catch-as-catch-can wrestling champion today and has a firmer hold on the title than ever before.

The big Nebraskan defended his crown successfully against Ed (Strangler) Lewis in one of the most sensational matches ever witnessed in this city, throwing the sturdy Kentuckian with a head scissor and arm lock after three hours, four minutes and 15 seconds of wrestling. The match was replete with colorful situations in which both wrestlers were in danger of being pinned to the mat many times. George Bothner, the veteran, refereed.

Soloists of note will entertain during the evening and everything points to a very successful event. The Elm A. C. consists of thirty-five young men and each one has cooperated to make this first novelty dance and revenue just what it is expected to be, the best ever. "Curt" Sharter's orchestra will furnish the music.

The Lutheran children of America are preparing to bring a gift of $300,000 to the starving Lutheran children of Europe.

This is part of the Lutheran world service campaign which is being organized now to take place May 9 to 16. The goal of the campaign is $1,800,000, all of which will be spent during the present year in different parts of Europe for relief work among Lutheran groups, and for the re-organization and re-establishment of church life where it has stopped or has been hampered by the war.

Special arrangement is being made for this gift of the Lutheran children of America because the survey of the needs of Lutherans in Europe during the past year has brought out an appalling need, especially among the children. The need of the children is, of course, no different from that of their parents, but it is felt more keenly by the children; and the effects, according to the surveys, are more lasting and pitiful. There is one country, however, from which the report comes: Do not provide for the children because there are no children to provide for. That country is Poland, where the children mostly died when the people were deported to Siberia in 1915.

In Austria among the Lutheran groups the need of the children is especially acute. They are born weak and they are lacking all those things that are necessary for infants to make them strong and healthy.

May 9 to May 16 has been appointed "Sacrificial Week." During this week the Lutheran Sunday school children of America will save and sacrifice in order to help their little brothers and sisters in Europe. May 16 is "Sacrificial Sunday." On this Sunday it is expected that all the children will bring their contribution.

Looking for "Dogs."

The Poughkeepsie police are on the trail of a black leather traveling bag containing the rare delicacy commonly called a "hot dog," belonging to Miss Helen Vassar, a student at Vassar College. Miss Vassar appealed to the Poughkeepsie police to help her discover the bag and her lunch of a little "hot doggie."
